Now

With F.M.L.

All the construction and modernization in Cameron, Milam County have brought the lowest unemployment rate in 12 Central Texas counties.

Milam's jobless rate per 1,000 people is 2.1 percent, the next lowest in Hamilton County, at 2.2, followed by Bell County, 2.3, Mills, 2.4, Bosque, 3.1, Hill, 3.2, Lampasas and Freestone, 3.5 each, all below the Texas average of 3.9 percent.

Falls County has the highest unemployment factor with 7.2 percent and Limestone second among the dozen Centex counties with 6.1.

If this is not a great commentary on what is and has been done in this county when the average unemployment nationwide is more than 5 percent and in the state, almost 4 percent, what is?

NOW-NOW-NOW

Overcrowding is a factor where Milam County is not doing so well, though better than Texas' average. We have 13 percent of Milam population in crowded housing compared to state average of 13.7. The low is 8 percent among the 12-county survey.

But as long as Milam's job rate holds so well, the problem will be alleviated and reduced to better proportion.

It seems to us that Milam County is, by these statistics, showing the fortunate combination of agribusiness, government and industry working together to rebuild one old town, Cameron, having rebuilt another, Rockdale and having changed the minimum direction of a third, Thorndale in less than a generation. And this, while population in the rural areas was on the demise.

The facts support the case for continued co-operation among apparent divergent forces, for continued open minds about community and area development and continued acceptance of new ideas or new approaches to standard technics.

SUMMER FUN continues for local youngsters as they await school's opening on the 28th. A special garage sale for the younger set was being held on Fannin Street by Patricia

Charles Kunz Elected To Head Folk Fete Inc.

Charles Kunz has been elected chairman of Cameron Folk Fete, succeeding Mrs. Perry Holder, as the community festival prepares for its fourth renewal in 1973.

First vice-president is Dana Kestenbaum, and second vice-president is Charles Hundle, both of Cameron.

Miss Mildred Thornton is outgoing vice-chairman of the festival. Mrs. Holder and Miss Thornton worked up the first Folk Fete, begun in 1970.

Kunz is head of the German Folk Fete dancers, who are scheduled to appear at the first Texas Folk Life Festival Sept. 7-10 in San Antonio's UofT Institute of Texas Cultures at Hemisfair.

The dance group has appeared recently in Elgin and other communities and has appeared at the New Braunfels Wurstfest, one of the nation's largest festivals.

Also nominated and approved by the Folk Fete board to be directors are Mrs. Alma Bush, Kestenbaum and Hundle.

The Folk Fete board will meet in 30 days to discuss new approaches to the Cameron festival, according to incoming chairman Kunz.

The Folk Fete board is composed of about 20 people serving terms of one, two or three years under the by-laws of Folk Fete, Inc.

Dove Hunters Prepare For Split Season

Texas dove hunters with frostbite? Unheard of!

Until this season, Texas dove hunters were more prone to heat prostration or rattlesnake bite.

But recent action by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission split the mourning dove season, making a portion of it in September, and the remainder in January when the cold winds blow.

The North Zone (which includes Milam County) season will be September 1 through October 14 and January 6-21, 1973.

In the South Zone the season will be September 23 through November 5, and January 6-21, 1973, except that in counties having an open season for white-winged doves, the open season for mourning doves ends Nov. 2 during the fall segment of the season.

Parks and Wildlife Department biologists stress the split season is just an experiment to see if the late season will result in additional recreation without unduly increasing the overall harvest of doves. They will keep a close eye on the results to see if late dove hunting in Texas might affect the breeding populations of other states.

Rogers Schools Expect 630 Enrollment

Rogers schools will open Wednesday, August 23 with hours from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Enrollment in the schools is expected to be 630, a little more than last year's 610, according to Supt. Wayne Cornelius.

High school students who have not pre-registered in the spring, or new students who live in the Rogers School District and have not attended before, are asked to register August 16 and 17 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Any elementary student, particularly first graders, who has not previously attended Rogers Schools are urged to come to the elementary office any week day before August 23 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Cornelius said it is especially important that any child who will be entering the first grade who has not been attending Head Start should contact the elementary office as soon as possible.

The superintendent said the interior of the junior high and high school wings have been completely renovated for the new school year. Extensive renovations have also been completed for the gym and dressing rooms.

Bus schedules will be basically the same as last year, with buses running the first day of school. The lunchroom will be serving the first day.

A new elementary and junior high principal has been named. He is Johnnie Hauerland and will be coordinator of federal programs and director of Head Start.

Hauerland is a native of Sealy and a 1963 graduate of Sam Houston

State University, majoring in science. He taught and coached in Port Arthur one year and in Van Vleck eight years, serving three years as principal of Van Vleck High School. He and his wife, Dianne and three daughters live in Rogers.

Returning to Rogers schools as high school principal and head coach and athletic director is Donald Godwin. Assistant coaches are Elton Ramthun, Harley Doggett and Jerry Decker.

Tentative hours for the first few weeks of school will be from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. The "short schedule" will be followed until there is a break in the hot weather, Dodson said.

Subject to school board action at its August 10 meeting, Dodson said the schools' faculties will be complete, with new additions up for election by the board.

School improvements are continuing with preparation completed for asphalt paving of the area around the high school homemaking building and the band hall. All the parking area will be paved.

Youth Rodeo Entries Soar In Rockdale

Crammed with about 245 contestants, the 1972 Rockdale Youth Rodeo, sponsored by the Roping and Cutting Club, will open Wednesday, August 9 at Fair Park for a four-night run.

Each rodeo performance, Wednesday through Saturday, will open at 8 p.m.

The record number of rodeo entries hail from throughout Texas and several bordering states. Several tie-down ropers expected in Rockdale were finalists in the National High School finals held last week in Colorado.

A new horse trailer will be awarded to the high-point individual performer. Saddles will be presented to the high-point boy and girl in two age divisions, 14 and under, and 14 through 18. In addition, first place winners in each of the 14 events will be presented with silver buckles. Tacks will go to second and third place finishers.

The rodeo will feature one go-around and the top 10 from each event will go to the Saturday finals.

Collision Injures Boy Near Rogers

An 11-year-old Houston boy was injured Wednesday when the farm tractor he was driving and a cattle truck collided near Rogers.

Robert Earl Butler was taken to Scott and White after the 5:10 accident on Highway 36. He was listed in satisfactory condition with cuts and broken bones, including a broken collarbone.

Driver of the truck, Charlie Ray Eddings of Silsbee and a passenger, Wayne Jordan of Kountze, were unhurt.

Several cattle were hurt and at least one was killed, Highway Patrolman Joe Reinhart said. Both vehicles sustained heavy damage.

The mishap occurred when the boy started to turn left across the highway from the right shoulder, the officer said. Both vehicles were traveling east.

How We Look And Live....

Every local, county and state agency or volunteer group with manpower and vehicles should prepare for the August 10 and 11 clean-up in Cameron.

The "cleanup week" officially starts Monday, August 7, when "anything that can be loaded into a truck", to use Mayor Gene Blake's words, will be hauled away chairman Miss Mildred Thornton and vice-chairman Jim Camp and Mayor Blake toured areas of Cameron which can be improved in long-range combination programs such as the ones started by the combined city-county-Texas Highway Dept. effort toward general cleanup of the community August 7-11.

Decennial census figures tell something about the average value of houses in Cameron. That average value is $7,200, compared to Rockdale's $8,700, Thorn-dale's $7,000 and a state from homes and businesses.

The business of junk cars and dilapidated buildings, particularly dozens of empty ones in parts of town, is being undertaken through im-plementation of existing codes.

If one week isn't enough to haul all the stuff away, even old appliances, offi-cials would probably extend the effort to keep the mo-mentum.

Renewal director A. W. McCullin, Urban board median figure of $12,000.

Such comparison shows Cameron average housing values are affected by the numerous small buildings, many of them empty, whose value is well below the av-erage.

According to these census figures, 1,792 of a total of 2,184 housing units have hot and cold water, meaning about 400 housing units in Cameron have no hot or cold water. More than 400 have incomplete plumbing. About 300 have incomplete kit-chens.

If local and area churches want to help people, they don't have to look far to find people to serve.

A lot of this cleanup is a self-help, block-by-block, house-by-house, each block, each neighborhood. There is no end of success awaiting good organization attacking such an obviously easy thing to support.

The August 7-11 city-wide cleanup is a major start in an important movement in Cameron. It can mean the final start of the finish of indifference to community health and living standards which no amount of talk will improve.

It is the cleanup and haul-off commitment made for this week, particularly Thursday and Friday, August 10 and 11, which will mean the entire town, not just one neighborhood or the schools or the downtown, will re-store pride in the way it looks and lives.

22 Percent Of Texans 'Poor' OEO Study Reveals

BY BILL BOYKIN
AUSTIN

A recent statewide sur-vey shows 22 percent of Texans, or 2.5 million, are poor compared to a nation-wide rate of 13 percent.

Further, Texas accounts for nearly 10 percent of the nation's poor.

Texas Office of Economic Opportunity submitted the 300-page report to Governor Preston Smith, terming it the most comprehensive study ever undertaken among the Texas poor.

The Rio Grande Valley area was shown as having the highest incidence of pov-erty in the state -- 42.2 percent of the population. East Texas was next with 29 percent poverty rate.

The East Texas and Low-er Rio Grande Valley areas also have the smallest pro-portion of persons complet-ing high school.

About 55 percent of the heads of poor households are employed, and 70 percent of those have fulltime perma-nent jobs, according to the study.

However, low income lev-els make it difficult for these persons to bring their fami-lies out of poverty.

Guidelines for the report set poverty level for a fam-ily of four at an annual in-come of $3,800.

More than one third of the Texas poor are child-ren under 15, and four out of five are black or Mexi-can-American.

George P. Taylor, TOEO director, said the report will be the basis of programs to alleviate poverty in the state. Recommendations in-clude bringing in new in-dustry to decrease unem-ployment, housing expansion and better health care and food programs.

A proposed four-year anti-poverty plan for Texas would seek $6.3 million in aid from national and regional OEO.

REFORM SESSION

Governor Smith disclosed he is putting together a "Full package" of insurance re-form proposals in case he decides to call a special legislative session this year.

Reports indicated the gov-ernor was serious when he said he may call such a session on insurance mat-ters. Smith himself contin-ued to lash out at the in-surance regulatory board. When members ordered a rate cut for auto insurance averaging 11 percent state-wide, Smith said a 21 per-cent reduction was in order.

Smith said he must work closely with legislative lead-ership to achieve anything in a special session, but Lt. Governor Ben Barnes and House Speaker Rayford Price said he hasn't said a word to them about his plans.

If Smith calls the session, apparently he will propose wholesale reorganization of the board and a controlled competitive rate system for property and auto insurance.

ELLECTION BILLS PAID
The state ran out of money before it paid 1972 primary election expenses and fell about $325,000 short of meeting all its bills.

The last $117,000 avail-able was sent to county offi-cials last week. A lot of election workers, printers and suppliers have not been paid for their work.

The money was dispursed on a pro rata basis, amount-ing to 26.66 percent of bills still outstanding in the coun-ties. Remaining expenses will have to go uncompensated until the 1973 Legislature can make appropriations. An appropriation of $2.1 million was set aside by the Leg-islature last spring for the 1973 primaries.

"I can find no other source of funds available at this time," said Secretary of State Bob Bullock.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

"We can't live on a bud- get!" Or is it that you don't want to? How else can you find out where you money goes - or where it's taking you? A smart consumer not only spends his money wise- ly, but plans his spending as well.

Good money management considers the past, present, and future. Look at the past to see where your money goes as well as where it comes from. Keep an extra close check on spending for a month or more to deter- mine your spending patterns.

Then figure how much money is coming in. Your spend- able income basically is your paycheck. If you have cash income from other sources, such as dividends, interest, or rent, be sure to include it.

Look at the present to check family needs and wants for which you can spend cur- rent income. First, list the things you need - your fixed expenses. This includes food, shelter (house pay- ments, repairs, furniture, appliances, utilities), cloth- ing (new, repairs), taxes, transportation (bus fare, au- to payments and repairs, gas, oil), insurance, health (doctor and dentists, drugs, eye glasses), and savings (including emergencies).

Second, list the things you want - flexible expenses. These include education (books, tuition, newspapers, magazines), recreation (sports, movies, records, pets, vacations), gifts, per- sonal grooming, contribu- tions and dues, etc.

Third, add up these items to see if they fit the family's total expected income. If you are like most people starting a budget, you've probably overspent. You will have to alter your plan. Remember your important needs-food, a place to live, and clothing. Can these costs be cut? What about other expenses? What could be left out or put off until later?

Make your plan, but keep it simple. If it's easy to use, you'll be more likely to stick to it. Then try your plan for a month or two. Perhaps you've overestimated spend- ings in some areas and un- derestimated in others. Try to leave a "cushion" of a few dollars.

Look to the future and ad- just to change. Spending and savings plans seldom remain the same for long periods of time. Major changes may have to be made as finan- cial problems are solved, as goals are reached or re- evaluated, as you move from one stage to another in the family life cycle, if you have a change in income.

All consumers know how easy it is to spend money. But to spend it wisely is really a challenge. These guidelines for your budget can help you meet that chal- lenge.

STRANGE RULE

Live lobsters now are air- freighted to areas where the seafood previously was unknown. But early ship- ments to Cuba in 1960 re- quired a veterinarian's cer- tificate that the crustaceans did not have hoof and mouth disease before customs offi- cers would pass them.

4th Rothschild Generation Paving Way For Fifth

By Gilbert Sedeon
Reuter Correspondent

PARIS
From the top of a 10- story ultramodern building at 21 Rue Laffitte, three generations of Rothschilds look down on a fourth gen-eration which is already pa- ving the way for the fifth to run the family's immense fortune and world-wide in-terests.

"God willing, the sons of our sons will become bank- ers and businessmen," says Baron Guy de Rothschild, head of the French branch of one of the most famous inter- national banking families.

Every day, at 10:20 a.m. sharp, the fourth generation of the family, headed by Baror Guy, gathers in the mahogany-pannelled board- room in the heart of the Paris banking area. Watch- ing from the walls are the portraits of their powerful ancestors.

The Rothschild tradition and myth at one time spread through Germany, Austria, Italy, Britain and France, with ramifications across the world.

Today, only the British and French branches are still in business and thriv- ing as never before in the family's long money-spin- ning history. The French Rothschilds are richer than the British branch. They have become richer faster since Baron Guy and his cousins Elie and Alain, took over as the Rothschild bank-ers.

Whether in London or Pa- ris, the Rothschild success stems from shrewdness, hard work, unity and con- tinuity -- as one of the young- er barons put it.

The long-distance wires and communications sys- tems at the Paris branch today may be buzzing with its newest atomic invest- ments. The English Roth- schilds retain a more roman- tic ancestral edge over their French cousins.

It was a British Rothschild from whom British Prime Minister Benjamin Disraeli raised money in 1875 to buy shares in the Suez Canal Company -- considered a great coup at the time.

The industry of the Roth- schilds derives partly from the peculiar structure of their business. Through its railroad turned investment trust, the French house controis mining corporations, metal plants, oil interests, chemical industries, some of the worlds finest wines -- the famous Mouton Roth- schild and Lafitte Rothschild. It has interests in the French tourist trade and in hotels round the world.

Baron Guy is also a well-known horsebreeder whose 200 horses include some of the most famous in the French stud book. The blue and yellow silks of the Baron on winners at French cour- ses such as Longchamp or Deauville, or Britain's As- cot, are the same colors that fly over the chateaux and homes of the family on both sides of the channel.

But Baron Guy says: "We are bankers by trade. We work at our trade 60 hours a week. There is no letting up. You can't enjoy races on weekdays."

The main instrument of business is the Compagnie Du Nord -- a railroad net- work that became family property after the founder of the French dynasty, James, financed its founding.

The company's railways were nationalized in 1938,

WW I Cruiser Aids Research

By Willy Schwandes
Reuter Correspondent

HAMBURG have found the first proven
Doctors here claim to drug against iron deficiency in the blood of pregnant women -- with the help of a British cruiser torpedoed during World War I.

The drug eryfer, just put on the market, was developed at the Hamburg University clinic where there is a radioactivity detector for humans built from the massive armor plates of a British Royal Navy warship, H.M.S. Cressy.

Prof. Hellmuth Heinrich, head of the clinic's medical-biochemical section, said the detector enabled doctors to measure the effectiveness of drugs in humans to a hitherto unknown high degree.

In the process, harmless minute quantities of radioactive matter were added to drugs either under development or already on the market. The detectors fine measuring instruments then traced the radioactive matter in the human body, he said.

"We thus found out how much of the drugs was accepted by the human body and how much was secreted again," he said.

"This enabled us to finally use drugs in the most effective manner. But we also realized that very many of the drugs on the market pass the human body without effect."

A major problem in setting up the detector was to find good enough material to shield it from the natural cosmic radiation and could falsify readings on the super-sensitive measuring instruments.

Dr. Heinrich said steel and other metals produced since World War II were unsuitable because they contained minute radioactive substance as a result of the 1945 atomic bomb explosions at Nagasaki and Hiroshima and later nuclear tests.

"My problem was to find great quantities of metal that had been produced in pre-nuclear times, such as old church lead, but that was no longer available," he said.

"Then I heard of the Cressy."

The British Admiralty, in 1961, gave permission for the salvage of the Cressy, sunk by German submarine off the Dutch coast on Sept. 22, 1914.

A Hamburg firm cut the cruiser apart under water. "I ordered 65 tons of the armor plates and actually received them," Dr. Heinrich said.

BUSINESS REVIEW

I. T. Gilbert Is A Top Salesman For Mutual Of Omaha

You win the Master Builders Club award by top salesmanship and service with Mutual of Omaha.

That is what Ivey T. Gilbert, Milam County representative of the famous insurance company, delivers.

He is one of Mutual of Omaha's top 12 salesmen in the country, cited January, 1970, as a member of the Master Builders Club of Mutual of Omaha Insurance and its affiliate, United Benefit Life Insurance Company.

So Gilbert's presentation is timely. And a Mutual of Omaha policy pays and pays, because, he points out of one clause.

He won similar recognition in a plaque presented in January, 1968.

Gilbert is a sales and service representative for Milam County, a responsibility he has held for five years. He has a total of 13 years experience in the insurance sales field.

Four times a year he joins with other representatives of Mutual of Omaha in study course and seminars to update information on today's service needs for both companies and what other companies are offering.

Gilbert cites one policyholder's experience in which the man received $15,000 for one disability for recurring health problems due to the one deficiency.

It is a recurrence clause very few health and accident companies provide which can be used over and over and over for the same disability.

Born in Buckholts, Gilbert graduated from Sharp High School before it was consolidated about 15 years ago. He is married, and he and his wife Pat have three children: Ronald, 16; Brenda, 13; and Donna, 10. The Gilberts live on West 22nd Street.

We salute you for outstanding achievements during the past year. The exceptional job you have done in offering the best in professional insurance counseling and service to folks in this area has earned you membership in the coveted Presidents Club -- national symbol of excellence.

Why not ask this award-winner to advise you on your personal insurance needs, too? He'll be happy to do so without cost or obligation. Call him today.

ber assure 1,000 colors?

It's with Colony paints' instant color, liquid powder paint system, guaranteed for color accuracy.

If 1,000 paints aren't enough, how about pre-finished paneling and moldings in a variety of finishes and tones in a variety of prices?

Assisting Chandler is Gene Marak, himself a veteran of eight years with the firm.

Cameron Lumber Co. traces its beginning to Jeter Lumber Co. in 1890, which successively became Woodson Lumber, Wiese Lumber and now Cameron Lumber Co., all in the same location.

Cotton Demonstration Set At Harlingen

HARLINGEN
Full-scale demonstrations of new mechanized systems for handling and storing seed cotton will be staged here Tuesday by Cotton Incorporated, the research, sales and marketing company of America's cotton growers.

J. K. ("Farmer") Jones of Raleigh, N. C., Cotton's manager of mechanization research, said the demonstrations will be open to all producers, ginners and other interested persons.

The program calls for operational demonstrations of the turnrow rick compactor and the mechanized module builder, both of which were developed in research made possible by producers through their dollar-per-bale program.

The turnrow rick compactor stacks seed cotton in freestanding ricks on the turnrow, where it may be stored until scheduled for ginning. The mechanized module builder does the same thing in rain-belt areas by stacking the cotton on wood pallets.

Classes To Aid DWI Offenders

The Central Texas Alcohol Safety Action Project (CTASAP) held its first class of the Alcohol Information for Driver (A.I.D.) Course on July 24 at the CTASAP classroom at 302 East Central in Belton.

An agency of the Central Texas Council of Governments, (CTCOG), CTASAP is one of four such projects in Texas - others are in Houston, Dallas and San Antonio - and numerous ones across the country that spearhead the alcohol-traffic safety efforts of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, United States Department of Transportation.

The purpose of the A.I.D. Course is to provide a supplementary method of reducing alcohol-related traffic offenses by re-educating convicted offenders and motivating them to avoid future DWI offenses. The course will consist of a series of four two-hour classes held on successive Monday evenings with each class covering a different aspect of the drinking and driving problem.

The re-education program will endeavor to make the participants aware of the magnitude of alcohol-related traffic offenses by demonstrating the impairment in perception, judgment, and emotional control caused by the excessive consumption of alcohol. Participants are helped to identify their specific drinking/driving problems and are encouraged to take advantage of the available means of rehabilitation.

Participants in the A.I.D. Course will be selected from those persons convicted of DWI offenses within the six Central Texas Counties of Mills, Hamilton, Lampasas, Coryell, Bell and Milam.

The selection process begins the day the accused DWI offender is scheduled to appear before the court. Prior to talking to the Judge, the defendant is interviewed by a county prosecutor and a CTASAP probation officer.

Based on material gained from this interview and any past records the defendant may have, the probation officer makes recommendations to the Judge concerning possible probation conditions.

If the probation officer believes that the defendant would be receptive to the re-educative material presented at the school and would be likely to re-orient his driving habits to avoid driving while drinking, the A.I.D. Course is suggested as a condition of probation.

If, after studying these recommendations, the judge decides to make the school a probation condition, the defendant is assigned to a particular session of the A.I.D. Course.

Seminar
Students
Report To FB

Milam County Farm Bureau directors heard reports from three seminar students at its regular meeting August 3. The students are Randy Tumlinson, Jan Willingham and Alva Ray Mullinax.

The students attended the seminar at Baylor University in July.

The monthly membership report showed 19 new members signed up in July. As of June 30, the county organization has 46 more members than it had at this time last year.

John A. Smith reported on the state directors meeting. He said that the Texas Farm Bureau will move into its new building in Waco sometime in February and the dedication will be held in April.

HERALD CLASSIFIEDS SELL

SCS News

Early settlers and explorers in Texas told of broad expanses of grass with scattered motts and brands of trees. Mesquite and other brush were present but only in minor amounts.

Today what formerly was motts and brands of trees has, in many places, turned into a dense forest of worthless brush.

It is estimated that 54 million acres or over 50 percent of the ranges and pastures in Texas are infested with grass starving brush to the extent that major control measures are needed to bring the land back into productivity. One method of controlling brush is mechanical brush control.

There are many effective ways of mechanical brush control that are very effective. Rootplowing, dozing, flat cutting, girdling or grubbing. These are all effective means for brush control but different types of control are needed on different species of brush.

When considering controlling brush on a pasture consideration should be given to future as well as present land use opportunities, wildlife habitat, potential for recreation use, home sites, and attractiveness of the landscape. Areas near lakes, ponds, roads, and hillsides often can have selective brush control practiced where most of the desirable trees are left and only limited pruning of under brush is done.

Selective mechanical brush control with these things in mind not only double or triple grass production but improve wildlife habitat, natural beauty, and the value of the land. For more information contact your local Soil and Water Conservation District.

Each year there continues to be an upward trend in the total acres planted to improved perennial grasses in Milam County. Coastal bermudagrass is still the number one grass being planted by Milam County landowners.

This year the county ASCS office shows that it has provided cost share assistance on 4,196 acres of permanent vegetation.

IT'S DIFFICULT to see swimmers when you're piloting a fast boat, so expert boaters stay away from areas where swimmers could be in the water. In 1971, there were 113 recreational boating fatalities in Texas.

Help For Alcoholics Available

Until recently those affected by alcoholism had no local help, but in the past few years this situation has changed, four students from Yoe High learned at the Alcoholism Seminar in Austin last week.

Milam County is included in the Central Texas State

Planning Region including the counties of McLennon, Bosque, Hill, Falls, Limestone, Freestone, Milam, Bell, Lampasas, Coryell, Mills, Hamilton, and San Saba.

Those in need of help with Alcoholism may contact the Central Texas Council of Alcoholism in the First National Bank Building in Temple by calling 773-3722, or writing P. O. Box 203, Temple, Texas 76501.

General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article VIII, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 2. (a) All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit, all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and property not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer; and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property mentioned in this Section shall be null and void."

The spouse and children of any member of the United States Armed Forces who loses his life while on active duty will be granted an exemption from taxation for property valued at up to $2,500. # Tower Opposes Reduction In Farm Payment Limits

WASHINGTON — Senator John Tower today opposed a reduction in farm payment limitations, and supported programs for screwworm eradication, insect control, foreign meat inspection, rural electrification and rural environmental assistance, as the Senate considered this year's Agricultural Appropriations Bill.

Tower strongly opposed an amendment to lower the farm payment limitation from $55,000 to $20,000 per farm. He stressed that while the Congress has been working on rural development legislation, it should refrain from limiting farm income.

"I am a strong supporter of rural development, but I think we are overlooking an important point. Our rural areas need industry and business and ways to attract both, but the largest U. S. industry of all is already in rural America. The largest American industry is the one that is receiving the same wages as 20 years ago. The place we need to start in developing rural America is to start with the agriculture industry. Farming is the backbone of countless towns in Texas and the nation as a whole. Without the farming interests there would not be enough income to support these towns," Tower contended.

"It would be totally inconsistent, indeed absurd, to unanimously pass a rural development bill and then try to cut the income of the farmers" by lowering the farm payment limitations, he stated.

Tower further argued: "In farming, payment plans for land and equipment investments are not made on a year-to-year basis, but rather on the basis of a 3 - year plan. Our farmers have a right to expect to participate in a program which will not change in the middle of that plan. They have a right to expect the government to live up to its commitment to them.

"Over 42% of the total acreage in the U.S. devoted to cotton was grown in Texas. Of the 2,556 farmers in Texas who received more than $20,000 in farm payments in 1971, there were 205,623 acres set-aside in the cotton program -- more set-aside acreage than the total acreage in cotton production in many states. These same 2,556 Texas farmers also totally 83,784 acres of wheat set-aside, and 46,528 acres of grain sorghum set-aside.

"The U. S. has always been a place for initiative. People who are operating large farms should not be penalized for their productiveness.

"If the 2,556 Texas farmers who received over $20,000 in 1971 (farm payments) had been under the proposed $20,000 limitation, Texas farmers would have received $30,196,579 less in price support payments -- a devastating blow to the economy of Texas, and an even more crushing blow to the individual farmers who would have been unable to meet their own financial obligations."

Rules Told For Entering Academies

Young men who live in the Eleventh Congressional District who want to attend the Naval Academy, the Military Academy, the Air Force Academy, the Merchant Marine Academy or the U. S. Coast Guard Academy should write to Cong. W. R. Poage no later than October 15 of the year before he desires to enter one of the academies.

Poage listed entrance requirements for the academies:

Must be a resident of the 11th District; must be a citizen of the United States; between the ages of 17 and 22; and be physically fit, including excellent vision, general physical fitness, dexterity and agility.

Poage said the candidate should be certain he strongly wants -- and plans to make -- a career of the military service.

Exotic Animals Increase

Exotic animals on Texas ranches are experiencing a population boom, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

Between 1963 and 1971 the number of exotic animals has increased by 254 per cent. Department biologists say 35 species are represented by 46,611 animals.

The majority of the animals are found behind deer-proof fences in the Edwards Plateau region.

The animals, according to a 1971 census, include mouflon sheep (17,069), axis deer (11,171), blackbuck antelope (5,491), nilgai antelope (4,120), aoudad sheep (3,217), fallow deer (2,617), sika deer (2,036), red deer (307) and four-horn sheep (150).

Other species make up .9 percent of the state's total exotic population. They are sambar deer, eland, barasingha, oryx, impala, llama, greater kudu, sitatunga, pygmy deer, gazelle, blesbok, giraffe, waterbuck, sable antelope, ibex, pygmy goat, springbuck, gnu, Thompson gazelle, topi, suni antelope, addax, argali, zebra and nyala.

The only introduction sponsored by the Parks and Wildlife Department was the stocking of aoudad sheep in the Palo Duro Canyon. With the exception of aoudads in that area and axis deer in Kendall County, exotics are not subject to regulation, even if not confined to the owner's ranch.

Biologists have been studying these animals' life histories, food habits and habitat preferences for several years. Presently, studies are underway to determine the degree of competition between the exotics and native white-tailed deer.

EVAPORATION

The energy taken up by daily evaporation of water from the seas corresponds to 100,000 times the total electric generating capacity of the United States in 1970, National Geographic says.

TP&L CO. To Construct Nuclear Generating Plant

Texas Power & Light Company and two other electric utilities announced today the construction of a 2,300,000 - kilowatt nuclear generating plant tentatively to be located in Somervell County, 80 miles southwest of Dallas.

Other companies participating in the project are Dallas Power & Light Company and Texas Electric Service Company.

The plant, Comanche Peak Steam Electric Station, will be located in northeast Somervell County, provided certain engineering and environmental tests now being conducted prove sound. It will consist of two 1,150,000 - kilowatt generating units. The first unit will be placed in operation about 1980, and the second two years later.

Construction of the plant is subject to the approval of the Atomic Energy Commission and Texas regulatory agencies.

Several hundred construction workers will be needed to build the plant and a 3,200 - acre lake. Lake water will be used for cooling purposes. In addition, the lake will be stocked with fish and opened to the public for fishing and recreation.

Company officials said the plant will help assure the service areas of the three companies a continued adequacy of their electric power supply.

They added that conventional fossil fuels now used to generate electricity will be in short supply in the next decade, necessitating the use of nuclear energy to produce electric power.

Furthermore, they added, nuclear power has distinct environmental advantages. Nuclear power is clean power since it eliminates smoke and combustion products and gases, they stated.

The plant will be the first in North Texas. One other nuclear plant has been announced for South Texas.

The plant will be Texas Power & Light Company's second in the general area.

TP&L is now constructing a gas/oil - fired generating station near Granbury in Hood County. The 775,000-kilowatt unit will be put in commercial operation for the peak load season of 1975.

A nuclear plant produces electricity the same way a conventional plant does. The heat source is the only difference since nuclear fission produces the heat which turns water into steam. The steam spins the turbine, which in turn spins the generator, to produce electricity.

Research Grant To Aid Feedlot Cattle

The Board of Directors of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association recently approved a $3,000 grant to aid in research that is aimed at respiratory diseases in feed lot cattle.

The grant went to the College of Veterinary Medicine at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, which began the research in late 1969 in cooperation with six veterinarians and numerous feedlot operators in the Texas and Oklahoma High Plains.

Ag Issues On Agenda For Farm Bureau Conference

AUSTIN — Issues facing agriculture will be discussed at a statewide conference of County Farm Bureau presidents to be held here Aug. 9-11, according to J. T. (Red) Woodson of Fannin County, president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

New programs in Farm Bureau will also be discussed, the leader of the 130,000 member farm organization said. Leaders of most of the 206 organized county units in Texas are expected to attend the meeting at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel.

Speakers include Woodson; Warren Newberry, Waco, TFB executive director; and Jack Angell, Chicago, farm labor specialist for the American Farm Bureau Federation. The latter will discuss "Events in Washington."

Neal J. Robinson, consultant with a Dallas-based market research firm, will report on a farmer-rancher image study conducted in Dallas recently for the Texas Farm Bureau.

Pat Smith, Austin, TFB director of state affairs, will report on how agriculture fared in the special sessions of the 62nd Legislature. Ed McKay, Waco, TFB national affairs director, will discuss the "characteristics" of the upcoming 63rd Legislature.

Issues to be discussed during the conference include: Transportation, farm labor, environmental pollution, financing of public education, taxes, predatory animal and fire ant control, screwworm program, and property rights.

New programs and current activities within Farm Bureau to be discussed include: Public relations, policy development, income tax service, and Farm Bureau's commodity approach to farm problems.

Little Effect Seen From Beef Imports

President Nixon's suspension of the beef import quotas will probably have little effect on prices received by cattlemen.

Recent research in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology showed that imports for the last half of this year would have to increase 20 percent over the first half to reduce choice cattle prices a penny a pound. Choice steer prices were about 38 cents per pound in the first week of July.

The 20 percent increase would amount to only one pound of hamburger per person over the next six months.

The greatest effect of the imports will be on manufacturing beef -- the kind used in hamburgers, hot dogs and other processed products. Nations such as Australia and New Zealand export only the lower grades of beef to the United States because the U. S. normally produces enough choice and good grades to meet its own domestic demand.
